International application No.
 PCT/USO3/30161

V. Reasoned statement under Rule 66.2(a)(ii) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. STATEMENT

Novelty (N)	Claims 1-23	YES
	Claims NONE	NO
Inventive Step (IS)	Claims 10-23	YES
	Claims 1-9	NO
Industrial Applicability (IA)	Claims 1-23	YES
	Claims NONE	NO

2. CITATIONS AND EXPLANATIONS

Claims 1-23 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(2), because the prior art does not teach the compound of formula I, its composition and method of use embraced in claims 1-23.

Claims 1-9 lack an inventive step under PCT Article 33(3) as being obvious over Fitzjohn et al., US 5,684,011. Fitzjohn et al., teaches several pyrimidine compounds which include generically pyrimidine compounds claims in the instant claims. See formula I and note the definition of various variable groups. See Table 1 for examples of compounds made shown on column 8 through 12. Fitzjohn et al., does not show examples of instant compounds. However, Fitzjohn et al. teaches equivalency of exemplified compounds with those claimed in the definition of various variable groups of compound of formula I. Thus it would be have been obvious to one trained in the art at the time of the invention to make variously substituted pyrimidines including instant pyrimidines as taught by Fitzjohn et al., in view of equivalency teaching taught by the reference.

Claims 1-9 lack an inventive step under PCT Article 33(3) as being obvious over Meyer et al., US 2002/0004600. Meyer et al., teaches process for making several pyrimidine compounds which include generically pyrimidine compounds claims in the instant claims. See formula I and note the definition of various variable groups. See examples 1-17 of compounds made shown on page 3 through 5.

Meyer et al., does not show examples of instant compounds. However, Meyer et al. teaches equivalency of exemplified compounds with those claimed in the definition of various variable groups of compound of formula I. Thus it would be have been obvious to one trained in the art at the time of the invention to make variously substituted pyrimidines including instant pyrimidines as taught by Fitzjohn et al., in view of equivalency teaching taught by the reference.

Claims 10-23 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(2)-(3), because the prior art does not fairly suggest the method of use embraced in the instant claims.

Claims 1-23 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(4), and thus have industrial applicability because the subject matter claimed can be made or used in industry as therapeutic agents for treating several diseases including obesity.
